Grassley said, "I have done some research on this subject. I have found a few things. It is the Baby Boom generation. The members of the Baby Boom generation raised white children in the 1950s and 1960s. This is the generation that created the single parent family. This generation has much more than one child on their hands and they are struggling. They are struggling with their marriage because they raised their children to have no moral values. That is what their generation did. So, they have an enormous white baby boom. They are raising white children. They do not get welfare benefits. They have done that on their own." Advertisements Video: Sen. Grassley: We have a gigantic problem of families that are not broken up that are going to raise a whole bunch of white children. — Sarah Reese Jones (@PoliticusSarah) June 24, 2018 Advertisements This is what white supremacy is based on. The white right-wing sees that the family has broken down, and that minorities can't be racist because they aren't racist. What the white right-wing is telling themselves is that it is people like them that are racist. It is people like them that have a problem with illegal immigration. It is the people like them that feel that the country is on the brink. This is not a problem that minorities have caused or that minorities are going to fix. This is a problem that is being created by people like them. The white right-wing is creating this problem. They are making excuses for what they are doing, and the white right-wing is spinning their white infantile behavior as a reason for the country's problems. This is how the right-wing can use white children to promote their agenda. The white right-wing is raising white children to hate the country that they live in. The white right-wing is trying to teach white children that the country is just like living on a 3da54e8ca3
