Visit Aha-Soft.com and see the Perfect Blog Icons collection with your own eyes. Amsterdam's first permanent cycle-hire scheme will be launched in two years' time. The central bank has announced plans for a pilot scheme with the Dutch city's Amsterdam City Council that could become a model for other cities across Europe. The project, to be run by the city's transport services provider, Nederlandse Spoorwegen, would allow users to rent bicycles and use the city's bike parking areas for 30 minutes, five days a week. Amsterdam and Brussels already have a similar scheme - in the Belgian capital, it is called "Vélib'" - but the plan in Amsterdam would be the first scheme on a permanent basis. The scheme would see anyone over 15 years old allowed to rent bicycles for the duration of a 30-minute session for a fixed price.Q: Invalid version constraint in maven I got this error when i m trying to build war of my project : mvn -B clean install [INFO] Scanning for projects...
