I know how to go through my questions and look at them to see which ones have answers or are up for closure. However, I don't think I can go through all of them and find the ones that I voted to close and therefore could have answers. Is there a way to find out which of those questions are the ones I voted for? A: When you click on the vote to close button, it will take you to your question list where your vote(s) are shown. As you can see below, the entire question will be highlighted and in fact, you can hover over any part of the question to see the close vote in the status bar (upper right-hand corner) without needing to click.
